EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Denver region (Region 3) consists of Adams, Arapahoe, Boulder, Broomfield, Clear Creek, Denver, Douglas, Gilpin, and Jefferson Counties. Taking a regional approach is how we do business. Region 3, which is synonymous with Metro Denver, has a long history of getting big projects done. In the last three decades, the region successfully cleaned up its air and diversified its oil and gas-dependent economy, spearheaded construction of the nation’s only new airport in the past 25 years, and rolled out the nation’s single largest transit project. Metro Denver’s population reached nearly 2.9 million in 2012. The region had a 1.4% population growth rate between 2002 and 2012 and is consistently ranked as one of the fastest-growing areas in the nation.

Region 3 features a diversified economy of viable industries, the nation’s third-most highly educated workforce, access to two dozen federal laboratories, a dozen four-year colleges and universities, and the largest concentration of federal employment outside Washington, DC. Able to do business with Europe in the morning and Asia in the evening, global business activity here is supported by connectivity via the world’s 13th busiest airport and high speed telecommunications.
