Language Justice Justicia del lenguaje

Language Justice is the intentional practice that values interpretation and translation as critical tools for opening communication. The term “language justice” is a powerful way to describe individuals’ fundamental right to have their voices heard and to connect in the language in which they feel the most comfortable.

La justicia del lenguaje es la práctica intencional que valora la interpretación y traducción como herramientas críticas para la expansión de la comunicación. El término “justicia del lenguaje” es una manera poderosa de describir los derechos fundamentales de individuos a que sus voces sean escuchadas y para conectarse en el idioma en el cual ellos se sientan más cómodos.

The right to communicate in the language you feel most connected with- the language of your heart.

El derecho a expresarse en el idioma con el que se sientan más cómodos y conectados: el idioma de su corazón.

We will be using interpretation as a tool for opening communication

Usaremos la interpretación como una herramienta para expandir la comunicación.

Colorado State University's Land Acknowledgement

Colorado State University acknowledges, with respect, that the land we are on today is the traditional and ancestral homelands of the Arapaho, Cheyenne, and Ute Nations and peoples. This was also a site of trade, gathering, and healing for numerous other Native tribes. We recognize the Indigenous peoples as original stewards of this land and all the relatives within it. As these words of acknowledgment are spoken and heard, the ties Nations have to their traditional homelands are renewed and reaffirmed.

CSU is founded as a land-grant institution, and we accept that our mission must encompass access to education and inclusion. And, significantly, that our founding came at a dire cost to Native Nations and peoples whose land this University was built upon. This acknowledgment is the education and inclusion we must practice in recognizing our institutional history, responsibility, and commitment.
